

SPOTTER

Your phone is the camera. Your Fire TV is the coach.

AI form coaching for Fire TV · Vega OS + AWS · Live on the Amazon Appstore

THE PROBLEM

At home, nobody watches your form.

Half reps feel full

You can't see your own depth mid-squat, so bad reps go unnoticed.

Trainers cost a lot

A coach fixes form, counts and pace, but most people won't pay for one.

Phones are too small

A fitness app on a phone can't be read from across the room.

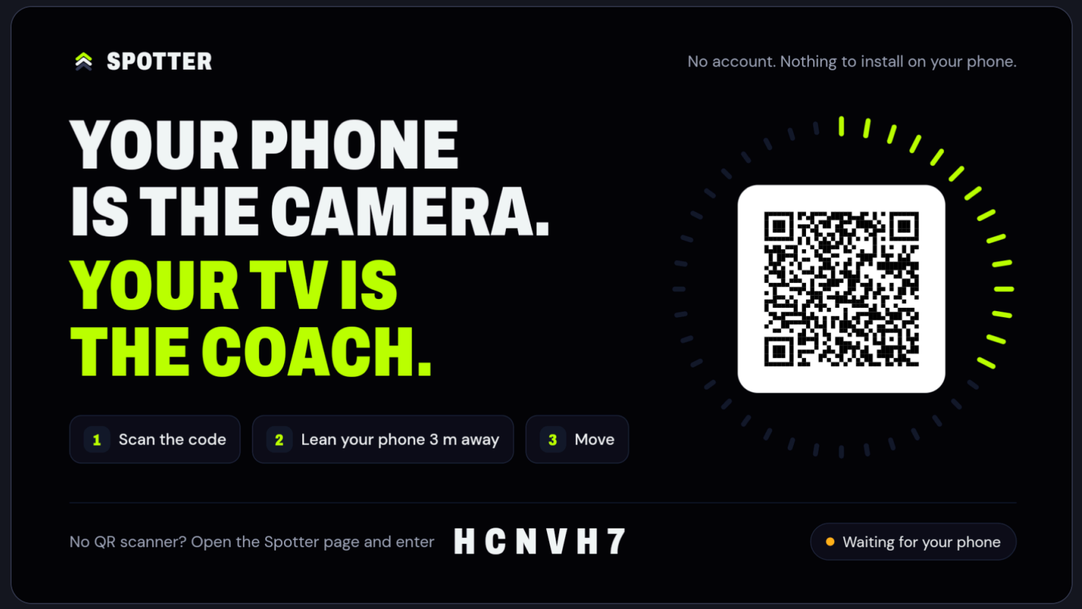

HOW IT WORKS

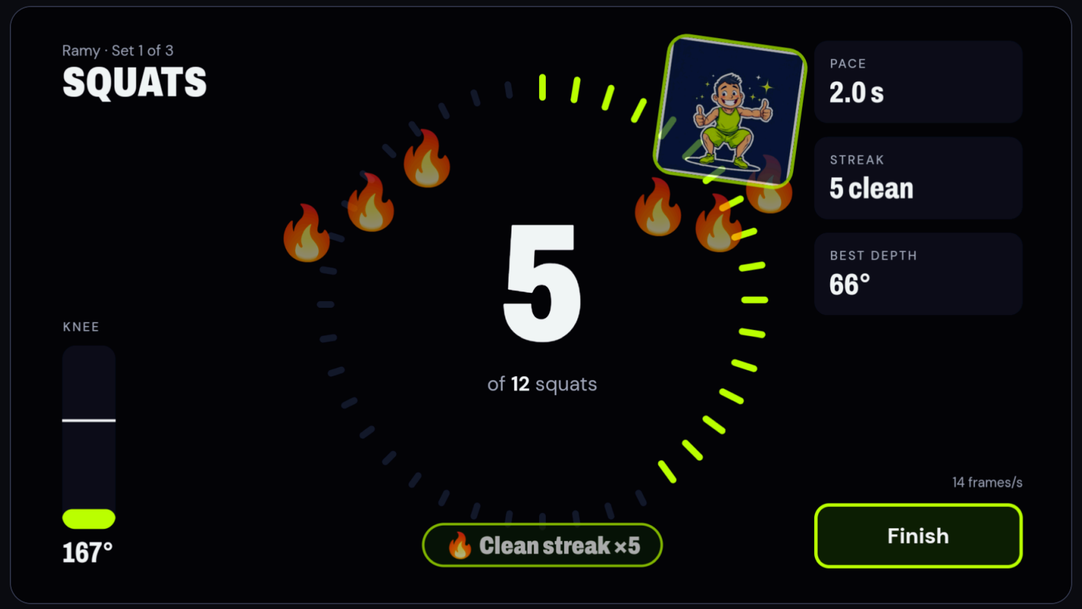

Pair in one scan. No install, no account.

1 Open Spotter on Fire TV and scan the QR code.

2 Lean the phone across the room. Pose tracking runs on the phone.

3 Only body points reach the TV, never video.

THE WORKOUT

Trains you like a coach.

A rep only counts at full depth. A half rep gets "Go deeper".

Sets, reps and rest: squats 3 × 12, lunges, jumping jacks.

Calls you by name and gets 2 reps harder after a clean workout.

THE AI COACH

An AI coach that can't invent a number.

Rules first

Each rest, the coach picks one thing to fix from the set's real numbers: depth, pace, staying in frame.

AI words second

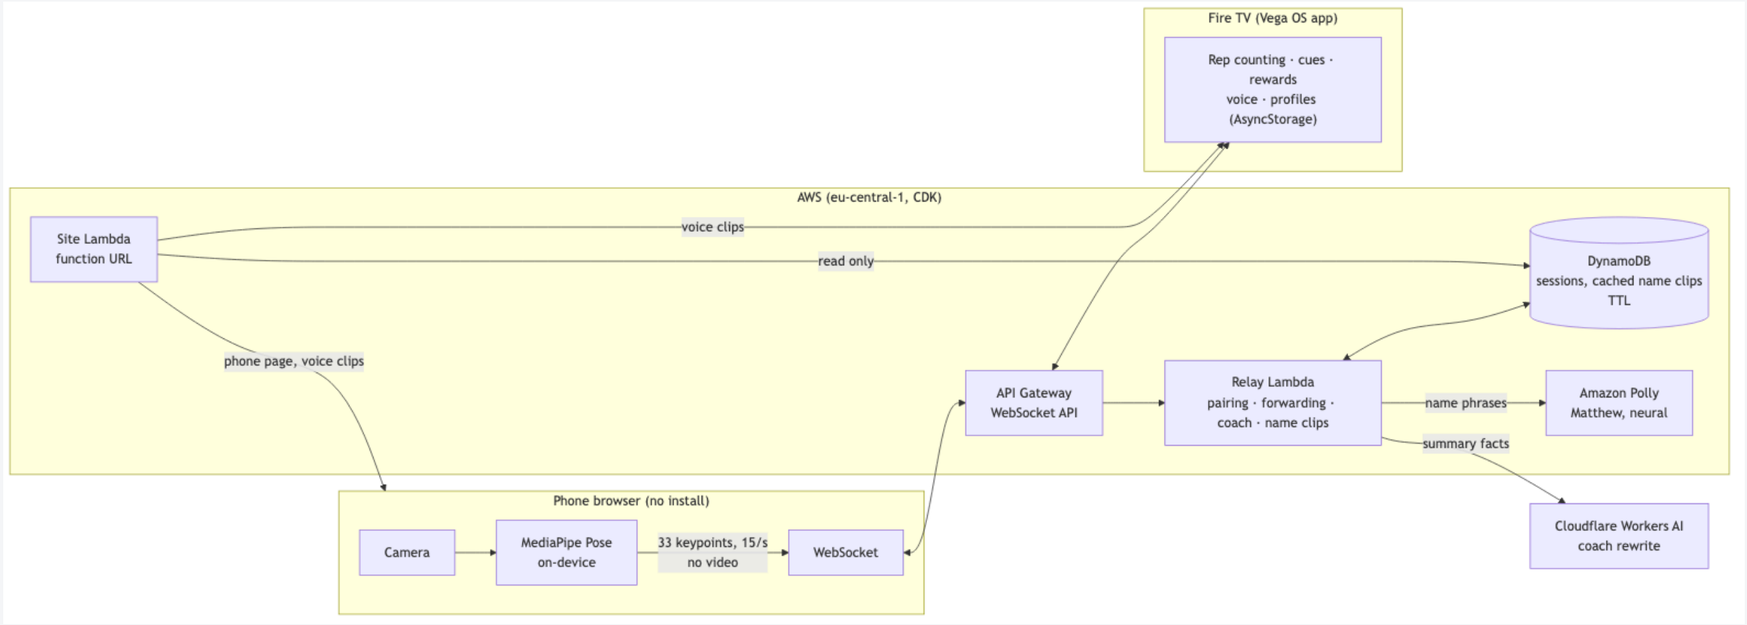

An AI rewrites the line in a coaching voice. It is used only if every number matches and nothing is invented.

Checked next set

Polly says it by name. The next set checks the focus, and "Focus kept" is celebrated.

WHAT'S NEXT

Train Together

Two homes, one coached workout.

- Start at the same moment from a shared code
- See your partner's progress on screen
- Send preset cheers from the phone
- The coach tells you how your partner is doing

Still no account, no chat, no video.
